

Channel 10 (National Australia)
Late News with Sports Tonight - 14/08/2006 - 10:40 PM
Sandra Sully and Ryan Phelan
Producer Mr Nick Whitehead 02 9650 1010

The security alert level in the UK has been downgraded although authorities are still worried about the likelihood of attack. A British Airways flight was turned around mid-flight when a mobile phone rang and no-one claimed it. John Howard says a possible plan to hide a bomb in a baby's bottle would be a terrible reflection on the morality of the parents. A Perth company, QR Sciences, has the technology to detect plastic explosives in carry-on luggage.

Interviewees: John Howard, Australian Prime Minister; John Reid, British Home Secretary.; Richard Delaney, passenger

Duration: 1:56

Summary ID: M00023030137

© Media Monitors

This program or part thereof is syndicated to 27 station/s.

Channel 10 (Perth)
Ten News - 14/08/2006 - 05:24 PM
Tim Webster & Charmaine Dragun
Station Ph: 08 9345 1010

PM John Howard says if the allegations of British Police, that a British couple intended to hide a bomb in their baby's bottle and use it to blow up a plane, are true it would be an appalling reflection on their lack of humanity. Perth company QR Sciences is the first in the world to be offering equipment called capable of detecting plastic explosives in carry-on luggage.

Interviewees: John Howard, PM; Richard Delaney, Passenger

Duration: 0:46

Summary ID: P00023028963

© Media Monitors